Opening Keynote

Our Opening Keynote will be Gwen Webber-McLeod presenting Trust: A Strategic Workplace Resource. The workshop uses Covey's concepts to help manager/leaders recognize the value of building trust in an organization as a strategic workplace resource. During the highly interactive presentation participants will:

- Develop understanding of trust and its connection to business outcomes.
- Review Covey's 13 Behaviors of high trust leaders and why it is important to develop these qualities in manager/leaders.
- Discuss strategies for applying presentation information in their own organization.

Closing Keynote

Our Closing Keynote will be John Fugelsang, writer of the documentary DREAM ON. DREAM ON investigates the perilous state of the American Dream after decades of rising income inequality and declining economic mobility.

In an epic road trip, political comedian John Fugelsang retraces the journey of Alexis de Tocqueville, whose study of our young country in 1831 came to define America as a place where anyone, of any background, could climb the ladder of economic opportunity. Following in the Frenchman's footsteps, Fugelsang asks whether the optimistic spirit of the American Dream that Tocqueville popularized is alive and well in the twenty-first century, or whether George Carlin was right when he famously quipped, "It's called the American Dream because you have to be asleep to believe it." John Fugelsang's reflections on his Tocqueville odyssey are captured through his stand-up comedy monologue woven throughout the documentary.

NYSCAA will be screening clips from the documentary the evening of September 15 for those who are interested. Click here to watch the trailer. Click here to read the viewer guide.
